Tenfore Strengthens Team with US and UK Expansion

Global market data provider Tenfore has continued to strengthen its sales teams in both the UK and the US, with the arrival of three experienced team members.

Tenfore's ongoing programme of data coverage expansion, coupled with an increased demand for alternative suppliers of reliable high quality market data, has created the need for more sales staff.

Bronwen Gray will be based in the Tenfore London office and will be responsible for identifying new business in the UK. Bronwen brings with her experience from Checkfree, Bloomberg and GL Trade.

Katya Hancock previously held positions at Starmine, Thomson Financial and CIBC. Based in the New York office, Katya will join Anne Shapiro to continue to increase Tenfore's presence in the US.

Chris Marcus who previously worked at Thomson Financial joins the London team as Account Manager and will add further experience to the day to day management of Tenfore's clients in the UK and France.

The arrival of the three new sales staff builds on the addition of Tim Patterson, based in the London office, in May. Tim previously held positions at Bloomberg and BDO Stoy Hayward.

Ben Collins, Sales and Marketing Director at Tenfore, adds "as Tenfore establishes itself as a global provider of high quality global market data, it is important that our sales representatives are of a commensurate quality. Bronwen, Katya and Chris, in addition to Tim, all come with excellent market knowledge and experience, which will be invaluable not only to us at Tenfore, but more importantly to our clients."
